At Autism Explorers we provide a welcoming, non-judgemental, supportive and inclusive environment for SEN children and families at each of our sessions. We promote patience, empathy and flexibility in all interactions.

We recognise that every child and family is unique, and may have different needs, experiences and challenges. Reasonable adjustments can be made wherever possible to help children fully participate. Parents and Carers are valued and their knowledge of the child is respected.

Supervision & Responsibility

Sensory Saturdays:

Children must be accompanied at all times by a responsible adult. Parents/Carers remain responsible for the child's behaviour, safety and wellbeing during the session. At each session there will be a minimum of two Autism Explorers team members, we do risk assessments and will do everything reasonable to keep the children safe, however we cannot accept liability for accidents or incidents that occur due to lack of supervision by a parent/carer.

Trips & Events:

Children must be accompanied at all times by a responsible adult. Parents/Carers remain responsible for the child's behaviour, safety and wellbeing during the duration of the trip/event. At each trip and event there will be a minimum of one first aid trained Autism Explorers team member, you will be able to identify them by the first aid symbol on their lanyard and having a first aid kit on their person. 7 days before the trip/event date an email will be sent to the booking email address with information about the time and location to meet, team members who will be there on the day and their contact details, emergency meeting points, etc. Autism Explorers will do everything reasonable to keep the children safe, however we cannot accept liability for accidents or incidents that occur due to lack of supervision by a parent/carer.

Workshops & Collaborations:

Unless we have stated that no parental/carer presence is required in writing via email, children must be accompanied at all times by a responsible adult. Parents/Carers remain responsible for the child's behaviour, safety and wellbeing during the duration of the workshop or in-person collaboration. All workshops and in-person collaborations will always have a minimum of one Autism Explorers team member present at all times, this is to support and assist the children, parents/carers and host. This team member will also be first aid trained, you can identify them by the first aid symbol on their lanyard and having a first aid kit on their person. 7 days before the workshops or in-person collaboration date an email will be sent to the booking email address with information about the time and location to meet, team members who will be there on the day and their contact details, emergency meeting points, etc.

As well as our procedures and code of conduct, the hosting venue or person will have their own code of conduct and procedures. During our time with the hosts we will be adhering to their rules, guidelines, policies and procedures as well as our own.

Health & Safety

We take the health and safety of our attendees seriously. Before each Sensory Saturday session, trip and event, 1-1's, workshops, etc. we carry out risk assessments for the venue and activities.

Venues we use may have toilets, kitchens, access to outdoor spaces and public areas. We expect parents/carers to supervise at all times. Especially if there is access to hot water, gates to outdoor and public areas.

Equipment and resources have been chosen by the Autism Explorers team members for safety and suitability, should your child have specific needs that might require reasonable adjustments then please let us know.
